BRIEF SUMMARY:

THE COMPREHENSIVE DEVELOPMENT PLAN (CDP)

The comprehensive development plan (CDP) is a strategic plan that guides the growth and development of local government units (LGUs). It is the blueprint for decision-making and resource allocation which encompasses the social, economic, physical/infrastructure, environmental management, and institutional development. A development plan created with the participation of stakeholders with the inclusion of outlined vision, goals, and specific programs and projects needed for the next several years. (DILG MC No. 2007-27)

The purpose and function of CDP are as follows, we quote:

- Guidance: Provides a framework for decision-making and guides the use of land, infrastructure, and other resources.
- Implementation: Translates the local land use plan and the community's vision into an actionable, multi-year strategy.
- Resource allocation: Serves as a guide for allocating budgets and resources to priority projects.
- Sustainability: Aims to ensure that development is sustainable, equitable, and organized, addressing the needs of current residents while considering future generations.
- Coordination: Provides a basis for coordinating activities among different government agencies and stakeholders.

THE LOCAL DEVELOPMENT INVESTMENT PLAN (LDIP)

The Local Development Investment Plan (LDIP) translates the Comprehensive Development Plan (CDP) to a budget allocation for specific programs and projects. It also serves as the bridge between long-term planning and annual budgeting, based on available funds and to improve the socio-cultural well-being and accelerate economic development of the communities. (DILG, NEDA, DBM AND DOF JMC 1. S.2007)

The components and purpose (LDIP) are as follows, we quote:

- Implementation tool: The main tool for implementing the CDP which breaks down the goals into concrete and fundable projects.
- Timeframe: Typically covers 3-6 years period and aligning with the term of local officials.
- Budget linkage: Links the long-term plan to the annual budget of local government unit, and ensures that the budget operationalizes the development plan.
- Annual component: LDIP divides into an annual component for specific year which is known as the Annual Investment Plan (AIP).
- Stakeholder involvement: Project prioritization through consultation with various stakeholders and constituencies to ensure local needs are addressed.
